Subject: National Webinar on Law & Economics
(6th March, 2022)

The New Education Policy 2020 is envisaging improving education to boost economy with a multi-disciplinary holistic education, applied learning and formative assessment. Keeping in view the Industrial Revolution 4.0 and new skill set requirement the thrust is on multidisciplinary education to strengthen the holistic academic needs of the new generation of students. University School of Law & Legal Studies, GGSIPU has been actively facilitating discussion on topics of contemporary concern through its conferences, seminars, webinars etc. Continuing on the path, a conference on 'Law & Economics' is planned to be held virtually on March 06, 2022. A deliberation on the junction of Law & Economics as envisaged by this webinar essentially seeks the economic analysis of laws. Academicians, policymakers, legal professionals, regulators, and aspiring students are cordially invited to analyze recent legal reforms and policies through the lens of economics and showcase their findings.

The objective of the webinar is to bring together various stakeholders of the subjects including both academia and practitioners together at a platform to facilitate thorough discussion on the inter-disciplinary fields of law & economics. The webinar expects a diverse and holistic presentation covering a range of contemporary topics such as entrepreneurship, digital property, climate change regulation and so on. The scholarly, conceptual, empirical and practitioner papers that address the conference theme are welcomed. Kindly find the submission criteria and guidelines below.
