Sir,

As the rainy season is going on which is resulting storage of rain water in various places of the University Campus. Water Storage is the main reason for breeding of mosquitos and as you are aware that mosquitoes spread dengue, chikungunya, malaria and other fatal diseases which are life threatening. The MCD inspector has also given warning against the said situation.

In this regard, it is requested to take immediate measures such as cleaning all stored water, clearing of drainage lines and providing pest control activities, if needed and report back to the undersigned immediately about the steps taken to control the situation.
